Dear Judge Drain,

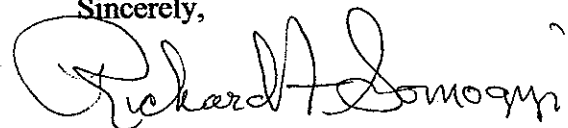

I am a sixty five year old salary retiree of Delphi Corporation with over forty-four years of combined service to GM and Delphi. I am writing to object to the motion of Delphi to terminate the employer paid portion of healthcare; the Delphi funded "Wageworks" healthcare reimbursement accounts and the Life Insurance benefits for salary retirees.

In addition to the devastating financial hardship this places on all retired Delphi Salary Retirees, I cannot quietly digest the immoral and self serving treatment by the GM and Delphi consortium.

Please consider that my forty four plus years of service mentioned above were: in service of GM (thirty seven years), and in service of Delphi only eight plus years. While proportionally the bulk of my service was to GM, I and most other salary employees had no choice in regard to the Delphi spin-off from GM, or in our eventual assignment to the Delphi Retirement Program. If in fact Delphi was compensated by GM for our accrued GM pension entitlements, they are violating that trust.

While I understand and empathize with Delphi's ongoing financial dilemma, I do not think it's ethically or morally right that the retired salary employees of Delphi should take a more than equal share of sacrifice. I would ask you to consider a ruling for something less than taking all the salary healthcare and life insurance benefits outlined in the Delphi motion. A compromise allowing our group to retain at least some portion of these benefits would be a more reasonable and palatable sacrifice.

Sincerely,

Richard F. Somogyi
